AN ADD-ON FOR INKLEDGER

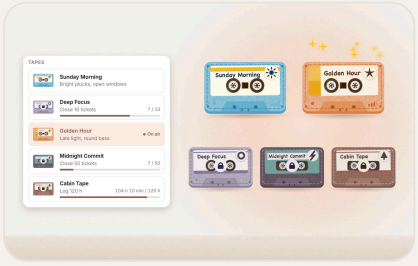

Desk Radio

A little felt cassette at the bottom of your sidebar. Lo-fi music, with rain, café, fireplace or forest sounds mixed in if you like, made live in your browser and playing along with your work.

One small row in the sidebar

Tapes to earn as you work

A mixer of ambiences

MEET DESK RADIO

Plays along with your work

Press play once and keep working. The radio never moves the sidebar and never covers a link; everything else is one click away, in its own panel.

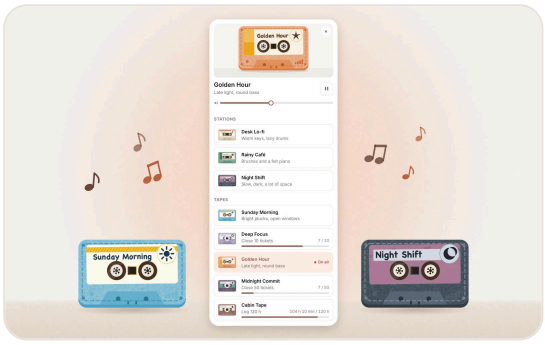

Answers your tickets

A chord for every closed ticket, a brighter one for high priority, a warm sweep at your daily goal. If you like, it fades in and out with your timer.

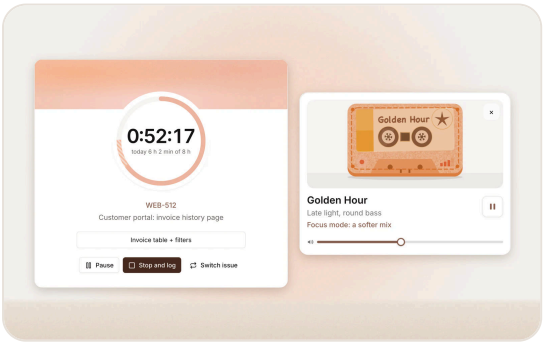

Stations and tapes

Three stations from the start, five tapes earned with the hours you log and the tickets you close. Each one has its own groove and its own cassette.

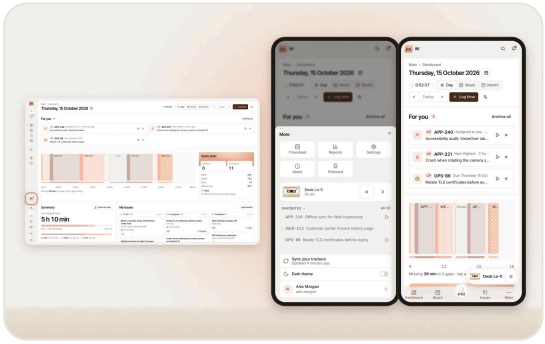

Focus mode, a softer mix

When inkledger's focus mode is on, the radio turns softer and the cassette dims, so the music stays in the background.

Wherever you work

Sidebar folded? It plays on as an icon in the rail. On a phone it lives in the More sheet and docks over the tab bar while it plays.

GET DESK RADIO

Three steps, inside inkledger

1

Request a licence

In inkledger, open Settings → Store and press Request licence next to Desk Radio. It is in free release.

2

Wait for the approval

You can close the panel: once the request is approved, inkledger installs and activates the module by itself.

3

Press play

Look at the bottom of the sidebar: the cassette is waiting.

Good to know

- Every sound is synthesized live in your browser: no audio files, no streams.
- Nothing plays before your first click. It respects the system's reduced-motion setting.
- It runs inside your own inkledger: no account, no tracking. The licence is checked offline and is shared by everyone on your server.
- Its settings (follow the timer, reaction sounds) are in its sheet in Settings → Store.
